FONDACIONI PER TRASHEGIMI
KULTURORE THANA

2022

WHERE ARE WE NOW

In 2022, our organization achieved significant milestones and made valuable contributions towards preserving and promoting cultural heritage in various cities. Throughout the year, we successfully organized 6 workshops, attracting approximately 100 participants who actively engaged in our programs.

One of our key initiatives was the "Archaeological School," which aimed to educate and raise awareness about the importance of archaeological preservation and conservation. Through this project, we provided participants with valuable insights into the significance of historical artifacts, sites, and the methods employed in archaeological research and excavation.

Additionally, we focused our efforts on "Raising awareness about different issues in the field of Cultural Heritage in Ferizaj and Kacanik." By conducting targeted workshops and events in these cities, we aimed to create a deeper understanding and appreciation for the diverse cultural heritage present in the region. These efforts sought to encourage active participation and foster a sense of responsibility among the local communities in safeguarding their cultural treasures. Further more, we had been able to publish 15 articles from the studies that the participants have made in these workshops.

Our outreach extended to various cities, including Prishtina, Ferizaj, Prizren, and Kacanik, where we actively collaborated with local communities, authorities, and institutions to further our mission. By expanding our reach to these regions, we aimed to ensure that cultural heritage preservation and awareness efforts were inclusive and widespread.

By the end of the year we have started working in our well designed project of producing animations that aim to educate children about cultural heritage.

Through the dedication and hard work of our team and partners, we have made substantial progress in 2022. Our workshops and projects have not only educated participants but also served as a platform for dialogue, encouraging exchange of ideas and experiences related to cultural heritage.

In the coming years, we aim to build upon these achievements and continue our endeavors to safeguard and promote the rich cultural heritage of our region. We remain committed to fostering a sense of cultural pride and responsibility among individuals and communities, with the ultimate goal of ensuring that our heritage is preserved for generations to come.
